Monument Hill and Kreische Brewery

STATE HISTORIC SITES

On a high bluff on the south side of the Colorado River across from La Grange are two important Texas historic sites. One is a tall granite monument that marks the tomb of Texans that died at the Dawson Massacre and on the ill-fated Mier Expedition. The Kreische site consists of the ruins of an early Texas brewery, built by a German immigrant in the 1860s, and his house, built into the side of the bluff overlooking the Colorado River.

Historic Structures: Brewery and house tours on weekends (weather permitting). Special group tours available; call park for reservations.

Visitor Center and Exhibits: History of German family culture and the beer-making process.

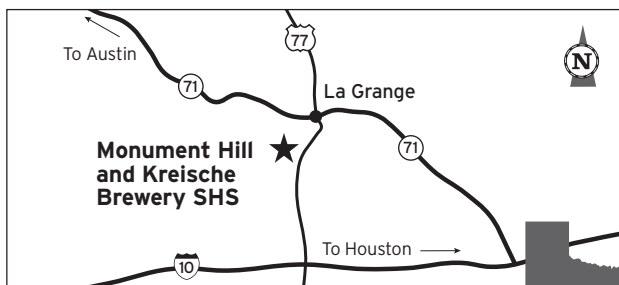

Picnicking: Shaded picnic area with grills and swings overlooking the river. Clean restrooms.

Trails: 1.7 miles of interpretive and nature trails.

Monument, overlook and interpretive trail open year-round, 8 a.m.—5 p.m. Brewery and house tours conducted on weekends. Day use only, no camping.

Located in Fayette County, one mile south of La Grange on Spur 92, off U.S. 77.
