

HELLO GIANT SALVINIA. GOODBYE TEXAS LAKES.

Giant salvinia is one of hundreds of invasive species changing the very landscape of Texas. Giant salvinia suffocates fish, chokes lakes and can double in size every seven days. It forces out native plants and threatens the fishing and boating recreation we now enjoy. And if giant salvinia is allowed to take over Texas lakes, it won't be our Texas anymore.

LEARN MORE

RSS SPOTLIGHT

News, Alerts and Announcements

MORE

MEET GIANT
SALVINIA MONSTER

- fig. 1 -

GIANT SALVINIA

GENUS SPECIE LOREM IPSUM
NATIVE ORIGIN OTHER INFO

- fig. 2 -

WATER HYACINTH

GENUS SPECIE LOREM IPSUM
NATIVE ORIGIN OTHER INFO

- fig. 3 -

SOAPBERRY BORER

AGRILUS PRIONURUS
MEXICO WOOD BORING BEETLE

INVASIVES
101

All you need to know about Texas invasive species. What they are, how to identify them and why you should care.

LEARN MORE

TAKE ACTION

Things you can do to help stop the spread of invasive species.

LEARN MORE

INVASIVES DATABASE

Search our in-depth invasives database for illustrated descriptions, ecological threats, management techniques and other useful information.

GO

ECO ALERTS
BY REGION

Invasive species are causing economic and environmental damage throughout our state. Find out about the threats in your area.

GO

PARTNERS

