Estero Llano Grande

STATE PARK

Estero Llano Grande State Park attracts a spectacular array of South Texas wildlife with its varied landscape of shallow lakes and woodlands. In late summer, hundreds of wading and shorebirds flock here, including wood stork and roseate spoonbill. Migrating waterfowl also make a beeline for the park's narrow, shallow lakes. The woodland and thorn scrub harbors rarities such as the grove-billed ani and Altamira oriole. Birders and nature lovers of all experience levels will enjoy exploring this almost 200-acre refuge.

Birdwatching: Over 250 species of birds have been recorded here.

Butterfly Watching: The park's beautiful native butterfly gardens and nearby woodlands attract a wide array of species.

Trails: Two boardwalks and five miles of nature trails wind through the park. Most trails are wheelchair and stroller accessible.

Group Facilities: Indoor and outdoor group meeting spaces offered.

Bicycling: Most of the park's trails are open to bicycling.

Interpretive Programs: The park offers regular guided nature walks, programs for school groups, and custom programs by request.
