Fairfield Lake

STATE PARK

Set along the shoreline of a 2,400-acre lake, Fairfield Lake State Park is well known for its excellent fishing. Fish that thrive in the lake include largemouth bass, striped bass, tilapia, crappie, and channel and flathead catfish. Because the water is warmed by an electrical generating plant, swimmers and skiers can enjoy their sport longer. The park's four hiking trails — over 12 miles in all — are also popular.

Camping: Campsites with water only or with water and electricity. Also primitive sites with water, flush toilets and charcoal grills.

Group Facilities: Dining hall (heated and air conditioned; capacity 60).

Picnicking: Picnic areas with tables and playgrounds, adjoining swim area.

Swimming: Designated sandy-bottomed swim area. Swim at your own risk.

Fishing: Lighted fishing pier.

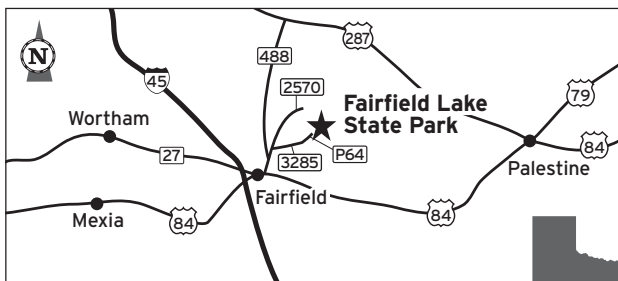

Boating: Two double boat ramps with courtesy docks.

Trails: 2-mile nature walk, 1-mile birdwatching trail, 6.5-mile perimeter trail, and 2.5-mile hiking trail leading to primitive camping area.
