STATE PARK

A tranquil, picturesque setting makes Buescher State Park a fun destination for the entire family. Located along the edges of the Lost Pines of Central Texas, the park surrounds a small lake, ideal for fishing and paddling. The trails take hikers through an oak and pine forest, which offers great opportunities for bird-watching, wildlife viewing and relaxing. A beautiful scenic drive connects with Bastrop State Park, perfect for road cycling. The historic group facilities showcase the master craftsmanship of the Civilian Conservation Corps from the 1930s.
