STATE PARK

More than 20 miles of meandering trails make Pedernales Falls State Park a hiker's haven in the Texas Hill Country. Many visitors also come to view the strikingly beautiful falls of the Pedernales River that flow over tilted stairsteps of layered limestone. Water enthusiasts can enjoy swimming and fishing in the river.

CAUTION: RIVER SUBJECT TO FLASH FLOODING.

Camping: Campsites with water, electricity, and rest rooms with showers nearby. Primitive area for backpackers.

Group Facilities: Sponsored youth group tent camping area with vault toilet and potable water.

Swimming: Swimming area begins 2.5 miles below the falls.

Fishing: Single pole or rod and reel only.

Birding: Two bird viewing stations along with miles of trails for birdwatching enthusiasts.

Picnicking: Day-use area with tables, BBQ grills and rest rooms.

Trails: Developed eight-mile Wolf Mountain Trail leads to primitive camping area, historic sites and the river.

Primitive trail system challenges adventuresome hikers and mountain bikers. 1/4-mile Twin Falls nature trail.

Horseback Riding: 10-12 miles of equestrian trails for riders to bring their own horses for some hill country riding. Horses permitted for day-use only.
