STATE PARK

Tucked away in the dense pine and hardwood forests of Northeast Texas lies Daingerfield State Park, a popular escape for families year-round. Most activities focus on the park's small lake, especially during the summer when people swim in its cool water. Visitors may also rent canoes, rowboats or paddle boats. The Civilian Conservation Corps built the park's quaint cabins and a group lodge in the 1930s. A scenic hiking trail encircles the lake.

-  Camping: Campsites with water only, water and electricity or full hookups. Also three cabins.
-  Cabins: 3 cabins (2 with capacity 4; 1 with capacity 6).
-  Group Facilities: Group lodge (capacity 20).
-  Picnicking: Day-use area with tables and grills.
-  Swimming: At your own risk in lake.
-  Boating: No wake permitted in lake. Sailing permitted. Seasonal rentals of canoes, rowboats and paddle boats.
-  Fishing: Fishing pier. Possible catches include largemouth bass, crappie, chain pickerel, blue catfish and channel catfish.
-  Hiking: 2.5-mile trail around lake.
-  Year-round Concession: Drinks, snacks and souvenirs.
